NEW! Quick Check® results tracked with HunterNet™!

Hunter’s Quick Check® inspection system, which previewed for customers at SEMA 2012 and NADA 2013, is now available for order.

The Quick Check inspection system expands on Hunter’s award-winning alignment Quick Check® system. The new premium inspection system features an integrated printout that can contain results such as brake performance, tread depth health, and battery health.

Using Hunter’s patented vehicle information database, HunterNet™, front-shop personnel can clearly explain needed service and generate more repair orders.

New HunterNet work management tools allow shop managers to track Quick Check statistics and access this data in real time by internet connection. Results can be viewed by the day, week, month, year, or lifetime. Other screens show related statistics for management.

Service drive of the future: Hunter’s Quick Check inspection process takes less than three minutes, allowing dealerships and repair shops to test every vehicle in the service lane.

HunterNet™ produces a Details Report that can be accessed from anywhere with an internet connection, and is also available in a simple printout.

Hunter hosts Annual Sales, Service & Distributor Meetings

Over 650 Hunter Sales & Service Representatives, and 100 Distributors attended the 2013 Annual Meetings. This year marks Hunter’s 19th Annual Meeting season.

Participants were introduced to Hunter’s latest advancements, including new WinAlign® 14 software, the Quick Check® three-minute inspection system, and new RX Scissor lift.

Field organization members and distributors also took part in hands-on demonstrations and presentations from over a dozen of Hunter’s industry experts.

National Sales, Service, and Distributor Meetings allow Hunter to gather feedback face to face. Many of Hunter’s leading product innovations come directly from field suggestions.

Hunter Training Instructor Rich Dickmeyer leads a demonstration on Hunter’s Auto34 tire changer.

Hunter Senior Product Manager Pete Liebetreu discusses new tire changer motor and inverter developments with Service Representatives.

Hunter Training Center Manager Jeff Piel explains Hunter’s patented brake plate tester installation process to Hunter Service Representatives.

Based on surveys completed by every attendee, Hunter received a score of 9.9 for “Overall Meeting Experience”, and we could not be more pleased with these results.

Our Sales, Service, and Distributor partners are more energized than ever to help our customers by providing relevant knowledge and information to assist them with their wheel service equipment needs.”
In March, Hunter hosted 60 of the top performing North American Sales and Service Representatives for an award celebration in Palm Beach, Florida. This year’s accomplishments were recognized during an awards banquet with spouses at the end of the weekend. Sales Representatives who achieve the highest sales performance and customer satisfaction ratings join Hunter’s prestigious President’s Club. This year, 9 first-time award winners were inducted. Hunter Service Representatives who consistently improve the quality of their work and achieve the highest customer satisfaction ratings are recognized with the reputable Lee Hunter Service Award. Hunter has the largest dedicated field service organization in the industry, continually providing unmatched knowledge and support for Hunter® equipment.

Hunter announces new Swing Air Jacks, LED light kit for lift racks

Hunter further improved its RX16 lift rack with new 9,000-lb swing air jacks. The new swing air jacks are faster and placed lower for increased drive on clearance. The new swing air jack also features a 63-inch reach, allowing for more pickup options.

In April, Hunter released a new LED light kit available for all lift models. The LED lights are located higher on the lift, providing more direct and superior illumination. The new LED light kit is also easy to install and service.

HawkEye Elite® exclusive alignment system at WorldSkills Exhibition

The biannual WorldSkills Exhibition brings together over 1,000 international vocational trainees under the age of 22 to compete for medals in 46 official disciplines. This year’s WorldSkills Exhibition was held in July in Leipzig, Germany, and welcomed participants from 65 countries. The Auto Skills Tournament determines the world’s best young automotive technician.

Sponsored by Volkswagen, this year’s Auto Skills Tournament featured Hunter’s HawkEye Elite® alignment system as the competition’s exclusive alignment system. Contestants showed their skills and speed in five alignment bays (shown left).

Team UK Auto Skills competitor Alex Knight stated, “The Hunter HawkEye Elite alignment system is quick, easy to use, and far better than anything else [we have] used in the past.” The HawkEye Elite alignment system was also highly praised by WorldSkills judges as the only product that supported every native language represented by the Tournament’s contestants.
Hunter displayed state-of-the-art booth at Autopromotec 2013

Hunter displayed a full line of industry-leading alignment systems, wheel and tire service machines, brake service, and inspection lane equipment at Autopromotec 2013.

Held bi-annually in Bologna, Italy, Autopromotec draws auto industry professionals from around the world to see the latest vehicle service equipment. This year, Autopromotec hosted 1,400 exhibitors and attracted over 100,000 visitors.

Hunter partnered with Italian distributor Rivolta Automotive to draw huge crowds to see Hunter equipment in action. Featured in the booth were Hunter’s HawkEye Elite® alignment system, new Quick Check® three-minute inspection system, new wheel balancers including the Road Force Touch® diagnostic wheel balancer and other important innovations from Hunter.

Despite the recession in Italy, Hunter’s leading technology drew huge international crowds each day of the show.
Hunter demo truck debuts in Russia

One of Hunter’s newest distributors in Russia, Berg, is using a new Hunter demo truck to provide customers with live equipment demonstrations.

To date, the truck has been used in Moscow, Samara, and Kazan to show the speed and ease of Hunter’s industry-leading equipment.

Based on tremendous customer feedback, Berg intends to increase the number of demo trucks used in Russia by the end of 2013.

Hunter distributor, Madhus Garage Equipments, celebrates 25th anniversary

India distributor Madhus Garage Equipments recently commemorated its 25th anniversary by inviting partners from around the world to company headquarters in Bangalore.

Representatives from Hunter attended the celebration and participated in several interactive wheel alignment and tire changer seminars. Madhus hosted a cocktail dinner and awards ceremony for all attendees.

Hunter Region Manager Avtar Singh noted that “Hunter’s partnership with Madhus has been a great one. Madhus has played a key role in not only developing the Indian market for Hunter, but at the same time it has changed the landscape of the wheel service equipment market in India.”

Madhus and Hunter partnered in 2000. By 2012, Madhus Garage Equipments became Hunter’s #1 distributor in the Asia Pacific Region.
Hunter’s Douglas named 2013 Inventor of the Year by Saint Louis Bar

The Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis (BAMSL) recently named Hunter Engineering R & D Engineering Manager Mike Douglas as 2013 Inventor of the Year.

Mike earned the award for his years of innovative work in the automotive service field. With over 40 issued patents, Mike has dedicated his entire 34-year professional career to tire and wheel balancing. His inventions have defined Hunter’s market-leading wheel balancer line by improving the capabilities and productivity of Hunter’s customers worldwide.

The award was presented in St. Louis at the BAMSL Inventor of the Year Banquet, an annual gathering of patent and trademark attorneys. This is the second BAMSL Inventor of the Year Award won by an engineer from Hunter, the first being Dan January in 2002.
